

Dates:

Pre-registration: from April 2018

New academic year from September 2018

Please feel free to contact us for further information:

Elizabet Arocena (mirenelizabet.arocena@ehu.eus)
Jasone Cenoz (jasone.cenoz@ehu.eus)
Alaitz Santos (alaitz.santos@ehu.eus)

www.ehu.eus/en/web/mastermultilinguaeducation

European Master in Multilingualism and Education

European Master in Multilingualism and Education (EMME)

University of the Basque Country
(UPV/EHU)

HEFA Avenida Tolosa 70
20018 Donostia-San Sebastián

Tel: (+34) 943018248
Email: elixabete.echeverria@ehu.eus

Campus of Gipuzkoa in Donostia- San Sebastián

Faculty of Education, Philosophy and Anthropology

eman ta zabal zazu

Universidad del País Vasco
Euskal Herriko Unibertsitatea

University of the Basque Country (UPV/EHU)

Faculty of Education,
Philosophy and Anthropology

Telephone: (+34) 943018248
www.ehu.eus/en/web/mastermultilinguaeducation

European Master in Multilingualism and Education (EMME)

This master's degree in multilingualism and education will give you the opportunity to become both an expert and a researcher in the field of multilingualism. This unique Master's program will develop your interest in language learning, language planning and language use in education. You will also acquire skills that will provide the necessary training for a doctorate.

The aim of EMME is to promote excellent teaching and high quality research that inspires both students and faculty. Critical thinking and analytical skills are stimulated in a program that provides key concepts and challenges of multilingualism and education.

As our student you will:

- Become a specialist at an advanced level in multilingualism and education
- Deeply understand psycholinguistic, sociolinguistic and educational aspects
- Gain in your capacity to solve problems
- Develop a stronger critical analytic attitude
- Be able to implement innovation processes
- Acquire the ability to design multilingual educational programs
- Become a skilful and qualified researcher in the area

The program consists of advanced courses (45 ECTS) and a Master Thesis (15 ECTS). Upon completion of this Master the students are encouraged to continue with a PhD degree. This European Master is organized in collaboration with the University of Groningen (Netherlands).

The Master follows a multilingual policy. The language of instruction of the two compulsory courses is English and optional courses can be in English, Basque or Spanish. Students can communicate and submit their work in any of the three languages.

The EMME committee members:
Elizabet Arocena, Jasone Cenoz and Alaitz Santos

Universidad del País Vasco Euskal Herriko Unibertsitatea

Seven good reasons to study EMME

1. Your time at UPV/EHU will be a wonderful academic experience. You will be taught using various theories and methods. You will obtain a deep understanding of multilingual education and it will give you tools that you need for practice. You will also be able to participate in innovative projects or solve various problems for schools. EMME includes among its staff internationally known researchers from the University of the Basque Country and other universities.

2. An important aim of EMME is to provide students with opportunities to combine classroom learning with prior knowledge and their own professional experience and in their second year to apply it in a practice trainee-program in an educational context.

3. EMME offers opportunities for stays abroad so as to learn about other multilingual education projects while working on the master's thesis.

4. You will have the opportunity to listen to and interact with leading scholars in multilingual education through the 'Donostia Lectures on Multilingualism' series.

5. EMME will be an opportunity to refresh your English. There is a choice for participants to use English, Basque or Spanish in their presentations or written work but the language of instruction and materials will be in English in some courses.

6. EMME offers the possibility of recognizing some credits for previous working experience and courses.

7. EMME gives you the possibility to attend some courses on line.

Studying EMME will be a wonderful life experience!